Energized in the Rockies

Colorado | Utah | Wyoming

More than just developing energy, Anadarko's people are an energy source all their own.

We act, volunteer, help, preserve, and give back to our communities. This has always been the bedrock of Anadarko's culture and values. More than just donating money, we give of ourselves for the good of our friends, neighbors, families, and communities. Our energy is boundless!

Nearly 2,000 strong, the Anadarko Rockies team across Colorado, Utah and Wyoming produces enough energy to heat or cool nearly 11 million average American homes each day.

“Our operations and employees are deeply-rooted in communities of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming. We not only live, work, and raise families here, but also recognize we have a responsibility to support our communities and non-profit partners. It is a part of our core values as a company and an integral part of who we are as people.”

– Brad Holly, Vice President Operations (Rockies)

Colorado Floods

Energized Response to an Urgent Need.

“ Right after the flood damage in Weld County was assessed, Anadarko was the first to call—as always. Their large donation was instrumental in helping our neighbors begin to recover from the destruction. We can't thank them enough for being so connected to Weld County and truly making a difference. ”

— Judy Knapp, President & CEO
Community Foundation Serving Greeley and Weld County

The catastrophic Colorado flooding in September 2013 was devastating for many northeastern Colorado families. As the floodwaters rose, Anadarko heightened its humanitarian response, giving vital assistance to impacted neighbors and communities.

These flood relief efforts included:

- Truckloads of food, water and supplies to Kersey
- Gift cards to displaced families in Evans and Milliken
- A semi-truck of food for the Weld County Food Bank
- Hotel rooms to families displaced by the flooding
- Flood debris cleanup crews in Evans
- Port-a-potties for residents in Evans
- Fence repair crews in Weld County

Flood Cleanup in Boulder An Anadarko-supplied crew worked three days clearing debris from a flood-ravaged Boulder neighborhood.

Environment

Energized Commitment to Environmental Stewardship.

Protecting the environment is important to us all. We are committed to preserving public health wherever we operate.

“Nesting raptors take advantage of many areas currently being explored or developed for oil and gas in Colorado and Wyoming. It is very valuable that field personnel know what to look for. We value our relationship with Anadarko and its employees. The RMRP will always be ready to help when the call comes in.”

— Michael Tincher, Rehabilitation Coordinator
Rocky Mountain Raptor Program

RMRP Eagle Release <>

A juvenile Bald Eagle was returned to the wild by the Anadarko employees who found the injured bird. They called the Rocky Mountain Raptor Program, which treated and rehabilitated the eagle.
